

Yanlu Li granted with '2012 Chinese Government Award for Outstanding Self-financed Students Abroad' by CSC

The “Chinese Government Award for Outstanding Self-Financed Students Abroad” is a project that starts from 2003 by China Scholarship Council approved by the China Ministry of Education. The prize is set up to reward outstanding Chinese students abroad for their achievement in studies and to encourage them to serve China in various forms.

The prize is only awarded to Chinese PhD students abroad, who have finished their first year study and have not yet received any funding support from Chinese Government for their PhD study.
